

Fighting in the Vicinity of the Persian Gulf

INDIAN CAVALRY WADING THROUGH THE FLOODED AREAS NEAR THE PERSIAN GULF. THESE AUXILIARY FORCES, ACCLIMATED AS THEY ARE, HAVE PROVED OF GREAT ASSISTANCE TO THE BRITISH.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

THE DIFFICULTIES UNDER WHICH THE BRITISH FORCES HAVE LABORED IN THEIR CONFLICTS WITH THE TURKS IN THE PERSIAN GULF REGION ARE VIVIDLY ILLUSTRATED IN THIS PICTURE OF A FLOODED DISTRICT.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

BOTH CLIMATE AND TRAVELING CONDITIONS WERE HANDICAPS TO THE ARMIES FIGHTING IN THE NEAR EAST. A SUPPLY TRAIN IS HERE SEEN FLOUNDERING OVER FLOODED SANDS IN MESOPOTAMIA.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)